So Free to Serve

Looking for some light summer reading? How about the Bible's book of Philemon? At 25 verses it's almost the shortest book of the Bible (3 John is a bit shorter).

This brief letter gives us a glimpse into the life of Paul and some of the events of the day. A slave named Onesimus ran away from his master Philemon and found refuge in Paul's home. Paul describes himself as an "old man and now also a prisoner of Christ Jesus." Paul describes Onesimus as "my son" and "my very heart." During this lonely and difficult season of Paul's life, Onesimus was a great help to the apostle.

But the letter was written to accompany Onesimus on the trip back to his master. He was still Philemon's slave, and the right thing to do under the laws of the time was to return to that life of slavery. In the letter Paul asks Philemon for a big favor: give Onesimus his freedom. Paul writes, "Perhaps the reason he was separated from you for a little while was that you might have him back for good—no longer as a slave, but better than a slave, as a dear brother. He is very dear to me but even dearer to you, both as a man and a brother in the Lord." (verse 15-16)

I thought about the story of Philemon, Onesimus and Paul because we talk about freedom in our country this month. It's one of our most cherished values, and we're proud to say that we're willing to fight for it. This short letter encourages us to think about what we will do with that freedom. Paul believed that the service of a free brother was more valuable than that of a slave. He wanted Onesimus to have the opportunity to serve motivated by love, and not compelled by fear and chains.

As we celebrate our freedom this month, we Christians will probably also turn our thoughts to the freedom that Christ won for us on the cross. Because of his sacrifice we live now without fear of punishment, but rather confident of God's love and forgiveness. That freedom is ours because Jesus used his freedom to pay for ours. Now we're free to follow in his footsteps and serve.

Opportunities to serve are all around us. Certainly our congregation has many of them. Your new neighbor who struggles with English is also an opportunity, and so is the friend who struggles with the guilt of sin. We could look at any of those situations as inconveniences or burdens, but Christ didn't look at us that way. He saw our need and saw an opportunity to serve. And when he did he set us free to serve.

"Whoever wants to be first must be your slave—just as the Son of Man did not come to be served but to serve and to give his life as a ransom for many." —Matthew 20:27

Rummage Sale

I would like to thank all of those who helped make the 2009 Rummage Sale a success. We raised $1100 in sales, and another $102 in the SA gift card raffle. The winner of the raffle was Yvonne Cosgrove of Minneapolis. The money raised will be used to purchase much needed larger cheerleading uniforms.

Blood Drive

I would like to thank all the donors, volunteers and those deferred for helping to make the blood drive on May 30 a success. We had 4 first time donors and collected 41 units which surpassed our goal! Our next blood drive is Nov. 7 so put it on your calendar. Thanks again Laurie Sorensen and the American Red Cross

Trinity Banner

The beautiful Trinity banner displayed in the front of the church was crafted by Pilgrim members Carol Christensen and Lue Rogers. Thank you for your excellent workmanship!

WORSHIP SERVICES NOW IN VIDEO FORM

Thanks to the artistic efforts of our own Larry McGowan, the Pilgrim worship services are now in video form on the Pilgrim website at www.pilgrimonline.net. They are under the side menu heading of Worship Recordings.

Once you go onto this page you have the option of several worship services, all posted by date with the most recent at the top. Just click on the large play arrow to start the video.

If you want to expand the screen to full size, just click on the icon that shows 4 arrows pointing to the 4 corners. You can also jump to various parts of the service by clicking on the progress slide bar.

Also, as long as you are on the website, why not sign up for the Pilgrim newsletter to be delivered to you electronically. It saves the Church printing and postage costs and gets the newsletter to you a lot faster and in color. The heading for Pilgrim Newsletter is right under the Worship Recordings heading on the side menu.
